MISSING WOMAN LOCATED.

Mrs. Andrews Had Wanderedsin the Woods Since Yesterday.

Mrs. Lucinda Andrews, sixty-five years old, said to be slightly demented, was found near Piney Branch road and 17th street extended this morning about 7 o'clock, after was thought that her right foot had been frosted, but Dr. Cook, who made an examination at Garfield Hospital fater in the day, found she had apparently suffered but little from exposure. The elderly woman came to the city from her home at Falls Church, Va., yesterday with Mrs. Ballard and visited one of the department stores. She was left in the waiting room while Mrs. Ballard went to do some shopping, and had disap-peared when the latter returned. Friends were communicated with and the police were asked to find the missing woman About 7 o'clock this morning a small boy named John McDonald, living at 3414 17th street, left his home to go coasting and saw a woman seated near the roadway. Return-ing home, he told his father of her pres-ence, and the latter went out and questioned her. Mrs. Andrews had removed her shoes during the night and had been unable to get her right shoe on this morning.

Mr. McDonald was able to get but little information from her, and suggested that she go to a hospital. He administered stimulants and nourishment and sent word to the police that she was at his house. ambulance was sent to the house and Mrs. Andrews finally consented to go to the hospital. She remained there until shortly after noon, when her friends took charge of her and returned home with her.

ACTION TAKEN IN CASE OF SAM'L

GASSENHEIMER. she had spent the night in the woods. It Alleged That Verdict Was Contrary to the Evidence - Errors of Law Cited.

Motions for a new trial and in arrest of judgment were filed today in Criminal Court No. 1 by Attorneys Henry E. Davis and D. W. Baker, in behalf of Samuel Gassenheimer, in whose case a jury last Tuesday rendered a verdict of guilty, qualified by a recommendation of mercy. The defendant was accused of receiving tickets embezzled from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, knowing them to have been embezzled, and the case was tried three times before a verdict was reached.

The juries that sat in connection with the first and second trials of the case were unable to agree and were discharged. Dur-ing the proceedings charges of attempting and a resident of this city was adjudged to be guilty of contempt of court for an alleged effort to influence a juror.

The motions will be argued later. The defendant is subject to be sentenced to be imprisoned for not more than ten years of to pay a fine not to exceed $1,000, or both. Grounds for Motion.

The motion for a new trial is based on the following grounds:

"The verdict is contrary to the evidence: the verdict is against the weight of the evidence: there was no sufficient evidence to justify the verdict; because of errors of law committed at the trial by the justice presiding in his rulings in admitting and excluding evidence; because of errors of law committed at the trial by the justice presiding in granting instructions prayed by the United States; because of errors of law committed at the trial by the justice presiding in refusing instructions prayed the defendant; because of errors of law committed at the trial by the justice presiding in modifying instructions prayed by the defendant, because of errors of law committed at the trial by the presiding justice in his rulings upon prayers for instructions by the United States and the defendant, respectively; because of errors of law committed at the trial by the justice presiding in his charge to the jury; because of errors of law committed at the trial by the justice presiding in instructing the jury in response to its request after having retired; because of error committed at the trial by the justice presiding in re-fusing to permit counsel for the defendant to state, in the presence of the jury, the grounds for objection and exception to the justice's instructions to the jury, and ### on bills of exception taken by the defend-ant at the trial." For Arrest of Judgment.

The motion to arrest the judgment is asked for the following, among other rea-"The indictment does not allege that the certain tokens or tickets therein mentioned and described were, or that any one of them was, embezzled in any manner described in sections 833, 834 and 835 of the code of law for the District of Columbia, or in any manner whatsoever; the indictment does not allege that the tokens or tickets, or any one of them, came into the possession or under the care of the certain Barnes therein mentioned by virtue of his employment in the District of Columbia; the indictment does not properly allege that the tokens or tickets were, or that any of them was, at the time of the alleged em-bezzlement thereof, of any value whatsoever; the indictment is in other respects uncertain and insufficient to charge, and does not charge, any offense against the to Julia H. WORN BY A TREASURY MES-

The Bullet Which Wounded Him in Front of Petersburg in June, 1864.

Josephus Perry, a messenger in the division of bookkeeping and warrants at the treasury, wears a watch charm of unusual interest. It is a Minie ball, wrapped with gold bands and inscribed as follows: "Jos. Perry, Co. F, 125 Regiment, New York Vols. Wounded while in a charge in front of Petersburg, June 16, 1864.".

On the evening of that day Mr. Perry, who was sergeant of his company, was in the thick of the fight. The ball struck the bone of his right thigh, glanced and passed between the bone and the main artery of his leg, lodging in the fleshy portion of the thigh. He was carried from the field to City Point, from which place he was transferred to the hospital at Broad and Cherry streets, in Philadelphia, from which place he was again transferred to the general hospital at Albany, N. Y. Here an operation was performed February 23, 1865, after he had carried the ball over eight months. He was shortly thereafter mustered out of the service. For years thereafter he tried to locate the physician who had performed the operation, but without had performed the operation, but without success. In 1893 there was a reunion of New York volunteers at Gettysburg, and Mr. Perry was one of the veterans who went, the state of New York furnishing

"On Sunday, July 3, the day of the grand parade," said Mr. Perry, in relating the incident, "I was sitting in front of the Mc-Clelland House when a gentleman came along, and we were soon in conversation. I showed him the ball and related the incident of my being wounded and of the extraction of the ball. He recognized the case and said that he was the surgeon who had performed the operation. You may be sure that I was glad to meet him, and we were soon the warmest sort of friends. we parted he invited me to come to see him at his home in Paulding, N. Y., an invitation I shall not fail to accept. Mr. Perry was a patriotic youth and ran away from home at the age of seventeen to join the Morrison Black Horse Cavalry. He saw service around Washington, was at the Harper's Ferry surrender, got into the Gettysburg fight, where his regiment was in front of Pickett, and was with Grant up to the 16th of June, 1864, when he was

Mr. Perry is a comparatively young man yet, and is as faithful in the dis-charge of his civil duties as he was brave in the discharge of his military obligations.

PREJUDICE WILL CHEAT US OFTEN IF WI LET IT. You will be astonished to find how largely you are influenced in every way by unreasoning prejudice. In many cases you will also find that the prejudice has swindled you, or rather, made you prejudice has swindled you, or rather, made you swindle yourself. A case in illustration:

"I have been a constant user of Grape-Nuts for nearly three years," says a correspondent, "and a man happy to say that I am well pleased with the result of the experiment, for such it has been.

"Seeing your advertisement in almost all of the periodicals, I for a long time looked upon it as a hoax. But after years of suffering with gaseous and bitter eructations from my stomach, together with more or less loss of appetite and flesh, I concluded to try Grape-Nuts food for a little time and note the result. note the result.

"I found it delicious, and it was not long till bearn to experience the beneficial effects. My stomach resumed its normal state, the eructations and bitterness both ceased and I have gained the my lost weight back.

"I am so well satisfied with the result that the state of the dent is named.

Proceedings for maintenance were instituted today in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia by Maria and so well satisfied with the result that long as I may live and retain my reason Gray Nuts shall constitute quite a portion of my day food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Cree
